ABOUT ME

As a dedicated and skilled Android App Developer, I bring a wealth of expertise and a passion for crafting high-quality mobile applications. With a robust background in both Composable and XML design, I excel in creating responsive and engaging user interfaces. My experience with state management, MVVM architecture, and a wide array of UI features ensures that I deliver seamless and efficient app experiences. I am proficient in utilizing tools like JSON, Retrofit, and HTTP requests to build robust and scalable applications. My ability to integrate RESTful APIs and manage navigation, including nested and argument-based navigation, enhances the user experience. I also have strong capabilities in using Room Database, DAO, and Firebase Authentication to develop secure and reliable applications.
